

'Please Stop The Bickering'

I have been dismayed by the rancor concerning the YMCA. Sometimes people do not see the "forest for the trees."

What I mean to say is that the community will lose a great asset if the controversy continues indefinitely.

As a person with a disability, the Y is totally inadequate to meet the needs of people in my position.
The stairs make every visit a workout in itself. Getting to the bathroom without tragedy is a calamity that you always want to avoid. The lack of bathrooms and the inconvenience of their positions make every visit a matter of high anxiety.

I don't use the pools because of the slippery conditions. I have enough to worry about without breaking a leg.

I go because the people are so wonderful and as helpful as they can be with the facility that they have been given.

As far as I am concerned, we need a new Y with adequate parking for all!

It would be a shame for all of us to lose this vital organization to continuous strife and delay. If they have met all the standards and zoning regulations, let's not stand in their way!

After all, they allow all these mega-mansions on inadequate acreage without any delays or controversy that I'm aware of till now.

Please stop the bickering and let's have a new beautiful facility.
